Neva has followed the way of Hussar since she was very young. She was born in Hussars temple. Her parents were devote followers. She was a full member of the church by the age of 16 and a priest by the age of 30. She is now 38 years old. Her hair is light brown with a touch of red in it. Her eyes are a very deep green.

When Neva was very young her parents partook in an uprising against the lands ruler. They led a force against the Kings army. Even though they lost the battle (they were greatly outnumbered) they worked as a distraction that allowed a force to successfully slip into the rulers castle and take him prisoner. For their part in the affair they were given title and became land owners.

Because of this, Neva knows what it is like to live in poverty and wealth. She knows what it is like to live in an area where the people are treated as cattle. This is one of the reasons that she has come to the wilderness. She fights evil in all forms, whether it is the children of Beast or in the form of men and women who believe pain and repression is good.

The church Neva runs here in Sandpoint is the farthest point of worship found in the wilderness. There is no other “established” church from here to the mountains. She holds regular sermons within its walls and is always on the lookout to recruite new members.

As you would expect, Neva wears Black Chainmail armor and carries a black serrated long sword and shield. Both the armor and sword are +6.
