Norstrom

Alignment: Neutral Good

Nature: Confident and a Bit Arrogant

Bravery: 8

Norstrom's father and mother owned and ran a Small Inn. Both wanted Norstrom to take over and run the "family business". Norstrom had other ideas. Norstrom took the Queen's Talon when he was but 14. After spending nearly 8 years in the army he knew what it was to fight and kill. He also found he had a knack for teaching others how to do the same. The army had also figured this out and took advantage of it by making him an instructor. After another 10 years with the army Norstrom felt he needed a change and decided to try his hand at concurring the frontier rather than guarding against it. He ended up joining a large group of like minded adventurers and headed off to see if they could make a name for themselves.

Norstrom and his buddies spent more than a few years in the wilds. That was to the east of Shanley's keep, when that area was a bit more wild. It was not until many years had passed that Norstrom looked around and realized that of the original group of people that had started out together, only he and two others remained. Those two others were Hardrock and Ben Wa. He talked it over with them and between them they decided that they were getting a bit too old for the adventure stuff. They looked around and decided that Shanley's Keep could make use of a tavern, store and smithy. They combined their resources and started their business. A short time later, Hardrock had his wife join them. That was a good 6 years ago.
